

AROUND THE SOUTH

PEAK FOLIAGE SEASON AT RED HORSE INN, LANDRUM, S.C. – MID-OCT. THROUGH NOV.

When it comes to leaf-peeping season, The Red Horse Inn in upstate South Carolina is one of the best places to enjoy fall's brilliant splash of color on a weekend getaway. Located on 200 acres at the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, the AAA 4-Diamond property, with six private cottages and a six-room inn, is painted with panoramic views and picturesque sunsets. Guests can explore the scenic surrounds on foot, opt for a guided horseback ride through the mountains trails (with more than 50 waterfalls), venture out to area wineries and antique shops, or simply relax with a picnic lunch. theredhorseinn.com.

EUPHORIA IN GREENVILLE, S.C. – SEPT. 20-23

An annual bash for food, wine and music lovers across the country, Euphoria celebrates the thriving culinary and arts communities in Greenville, S.C., Sept. 20-23, with exclusive tasting events, cooking demonstrations, celebrity chefs, wine seminars, multi-course dinners and live musical performances. Singer/songwriter Edwin McCain, who co-founded the event in 2006 with restaurateur Carl Sobocinski, still headlines the Friday night "Taste of the South." Proceeds from Euphoria support local non-profit organizations. euphoriagreenville.com.

THE RED HORSE INN IN UPSTATE SOUTH CAROLINA
WAS RECENTLY CHOSEN BY
AAA INSPECTORS AS ONE
OF THE TOP 10 PLACES TO ENJOY FALL COLORS.